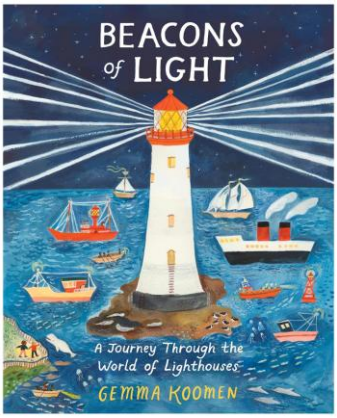
Lacey Green English Hub Update
16th October 2026

Lacey Green English Hub's Book of the Week ....



Beacons of Light by Gemma Koomen

This narrative non-fiction book explores the history, technology, and human stories behind lighthouses, these enduring beacons guiding ships through time.

Beacons of Light takes young readers on a captivating adventure, exploring the history and wonder of these majestic beacons. From the first flickering fires to the powerful lamps of today, discover the ingenious ways humans have tamed the sea and brought light to the darkness. A large format, hardback book suitable for ages 4+ would be a great addition to school libraries.

Transform Early Language Outcomes with the SELD Programme 2026–27

Looking to elevate early language development and Quality First Teaching in your school?

The Supporting Early Language Development (SELD) Programme is a fully funded, three-day course designed for Headteachers, Early Years Leads, and SENDCOs.

Across six practical modules over three days, delegates will master language milestones, discover strategies to identify and support SLCN, and learn how to cascade sustainable practices across their team.
