Preface

Macclesfield is an historic town attractively located on the westernmost fringe of the Peak District and edge of the Cheshire Plain. It has a delightful historic core centred around the historic heart that is dominated by St Michael and All Angels Church. Despite its role as the administrative centre of the Borough of Macclesfield there is a recognised need for it to be re-invigorated and refreshed if its full cultural and commercial potential is to be realised.

This public realm strategy for the heart of the town aims to build upon Macclesfield’s many existing positive attributes and deliver a new vision for the town that will enable it to continue to flourish and prosper to the benefit of residents and visitors alike.
